HODGSON HOUSE CONSTRUCTION

THEIR construction is simple, being made in completely finished sections that are quickly assembled, saving much time, worry, labor, and confusion of building. The exterior receives three coats of best lead and oil paint, the interior woodwork is stained and the floors are shellaced. They are easily enlarged at any time by adding sections. Being made of the most enduring woods, principally cedar, they last a lifetime. Their inviting simplicity, both inside and out, and harmonious lines appeal to those who appreciate these features.

TWO METHODS OF CONSTRUCTION ARE USED

Single Wall Construction and Double Wall Construction

The Single Wall (FIBRE LINED) shows the frame of the house on the inside, with a background of heavy waterproof fibre lining next to Cedar boarding.

The Double Wall (ARCTIC LINED) is the same as the Fibre Lined Single Wall with the addition of the Arctic Lining covering the inside frame, giving about a two-inch air space between the inside and outside walls. When a house is termed "ARCTIC LINED" (Celotex) it means that the side walls, roofs, floors and partitions are double, forming a dead air space, a construction more comfortable than a well-built plastered house.

PRICES quoted in this booklet include all built-in Linen and Clothes Closets. All other accessories such as Kitchen Cabinets, China Closets, Screens, Plumbing, Screens, etc., are not included.

"I may say that the cottage and garage, which you forwarded me, have been found to be highly satisfactory, as I found that everything you sent complied fully with your statements and representations, and I think the best statement I can give you is if I were to start again to build a summer cottage I would repeat the order and use your portable cottage and garage, as they have been entirely satisfactory in all respects."

"Years ago, I bought one of your Hodgson houses for my daughters so that they might play house in a real little house. It has not only been a constant joy to the children, but a source of great comfort to the grown-ups, as there has never been the slightest need of repairing anything about the house. Through the worst storms of both winter and summer it has never leaked, and it is in as perfect condition today as when we first set it up. The exterior, now, is very much prettier than it was, as the roses have climbed up to the roof, and form an archway over the porch. I will try to take another photograph when they are in bloom, and will send it to you next June. We feel that you deserve a vote of thanks from the entire family."

"After occupying this house from the middle of May to the middle of October for three successive seasons, I can state that it has been absolutely successful, and that its arrangements have been ideal. It has withstood many severe storms, particularly the great hurricane of August 26, 1924, when the sea repeatedly broke over the wall in front of the house and rolled underneath the house and burst open the dining room door, and flooded the room of which pictures are enclosed. After the storm subsided and we had dried things up, we found that there was not one single repair to be made to any part of the building."

LARKIN CO. INC., BUFFALO, N. Y.

"The Bungalow Bird House arrived last week. I thought you would be interested to know that before I had finished setting the pole in the ground there were a dozen swallows flying around to make an inspection of the house. They seemed to like it very much.

"I get a lot of pleasure out of watching these swallows and I now have three houses full of them. Not only are they fun to watch but they destroy the swarms of bugs of which there are many in this region."

J. CRATE LARKIN.

HODGSON BIRD HOUSES

OUR bird houses are attractive and practical. Being well made of red cedar, and well painted, they will last for years. They can be easily opened up for spring house cleaning, which should be done each season before nesting time. Many of the larger bird houses represent the several types of New England homesteads so well known and appreciated, and add much to the attractiveness of any grounds. These are the first five houses shown and are for martins and birds of the swallow family.

ATTRACTS MARTINS

"Last year I bought one of your Villa Bird Houses. On April 10th Martins came and looked it over and were pleased with it. I have counted as many as 60 Martins around the house. Later Flickers raised a family in the attic. The openings are a little small for Flickers but they pushed in and I allowed them to stay. Many people stop to look the house over and we are pleased with it."

CHARLES W. MACK, 322 Irving Ave., Dayton, Ohio

E. F. Hodgson Co., Boston and New York

ATTRACTING THE WILD BIRDS

Up to within recent times many who provided care, food and shelter to our wild birds did so from humanitarian motives and the pleasure to be had from having them in their grounds and around their homes. But today we are realizing more and more the great value of the wild birds in protecting our shrubs, trees, orchards, crops, etc., from the awful horde of insect pests which invade our gardens and cause losses of untold amounts each year; and so the wild birds are now most enthusiastically catered to and sought-after creatures.

In winter we have only to offer food to the birds to attract them. Shelter and protection will keep them. In summer they must have protection and a home—nature will provide food in the summer, which consists mainly of insects, bugs and worms.

They must have a place to drink and bathe both in summer and winter. Birds long absent from a neighborhood will find their way back soon after provisions for their comfort are made.
